Envisioning a Chicago Area Waterway System for the 21st Century

A joint project of the Great Lakes Commission and the Great Lakes & St. Lawrence Cities Initiative

Announcement of Public Meetings and Webinar

The Great Lakes Commission and Great Lakes & St. Lawrence Cities Initiative are pleased to announce the following series of Public Meetings to present information and gather input on the initiative Envisioning a Chicago Area Waterway System for the 21st Century. The initiative is developing and evaluating options for separating the Mississippi River and Great Lakes watersheds in the Chicago area to prevent the transfer of aquatic invasive species such as Asian carp, while improving other aspects of the system including transportation, water quality and stormwater management.
